

SAN FRANCISCO MARKET UPDATE OCTOBER 2016

The national economy continues to show signs of strength. The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco recently published an Economic Outlook, listing "healthy consumer spending" as underlying support for the economy. It is expected that GDP growth will be above 2% in the second-half of the year, partly due to this increased level of spending. Additionally, recent job gains have averaged 175,000 per month, well above the 60,000-100,000

"break-even" range needed to absorb new people entering the labor force. The latest unemployment rate of 4.9% measures slightly below the "natural rate of unemployment" of 5%. It is expected that unemployment will go down even further into next year. Furthermore, uncertainty in global markets has made "safe-haven" assets in the US, such as real estate, even more desirable to foreign investors.
